NWEA Connection

A 2nd grader and a 7th grader with the same RIT score are both answering items of the same level of difficulty. However, when testing the item content seen by the 2nd grader will be different from the item content seen by the 7th grader because the content that is included in the MAP Growth K-2 test is different from the math content included in the MAP Growth 6 test. The math content

Mean RIT different on Grade report and District NWEA

The Grade report uses all valid growth scores in the subject grade and term to calculate the mean RIT. The Grade report does not differentiate between different tests. For example, if you have some 2nd graders who take MAP Growth K-2 and some who take 2-5, all their scores will be averaged together to calculate the mean RIT on the Grade report.

RIT ranges on the Grade Breakdown report do not NWEA

For example, a student's RIT range for a goal strand on the Class report or Grade report may be 202-212. The 10-point RIT band that this most closely correlates to is 201-210, so this is the RIT band that will appear on the Grade Breakdown report.

What is the RIT scale NWEA Connection

These RIT scales are stable, equal interval scales that use individual item difficulty values to measure student achievement independent of grade level. That is, across grades, equal interval means that the difference between scores is the same regardless of whether a student is at the top, bottom, or middle of the RIT scale. Stable means that the scores on the same scale from different

How can I explain RIT scores to students and parents NWEA

This score represents a student's achievement level at any given moment and helps measure their academic growth over time. The RIT scale is a stable scale like feet and inches that accurately measures student performance regardless of age, grades, or grade level. Like marking height on a growth chart and being able to see how tall your child is at various points in time, you can also see
